

Gordan Dzadzic is a Management Consultant with experience in executive, management, team lead, start up, and consulting roles. Together with his knowledge of psychological and communication theories (REBT, NLP, TA), Gordan helps his clients resolve both psychological and practical (individual or organizational) problems and achieve goals.

Gordan Dzadzic is a Management Consultant with controlling, public finance, and banking experience, and a double-major in finance and economics from University of Nevada at Reno. He held executive, management, start up, and various consulting roles (restructurings, M&As, org diagnostics, donor-project,...).

Gordan is versed in Rational Emotive Behavior Therapy (REBT), is an NLP Master, and holds a diploma in Organisational Transactional Analysis (OTA) - an HR tool enhancing organizational performance.

Gordan helps clients raise their emotional stability, improve their interpersonal relationships, and then strategically resolve practical problems (individual or organizational) to achieve goals.